

getting rid of regulations which limit cross-ownership may of course seem simpler, but doesn't it defeat the purpose of news-reporting at all? we can't trust gossip, but one source can be relied upon to give a fair and even-handed evaluation of events to the public? something's flawed there.